- Each shift includes a one-hour break, which employees can take at their discretion.
- Employees must report at their designated shift start time, with a buffer period of 20 minutes (e.g., employees in the 10-7 shift must arrive by 10:00 AM, excuse will be given till 10:20).
- Repeated late arrivals will result in salary deductions (see Section 3).

- Biometric attendance is mandatory. Failure to record attendance will result in an absent mark unless manually verified by HR or the reporting manager.
- Early departures are only allowed with prior approval from the reporting manager and a copy to HR via email. Verbal approvals will not be considered valid.
- Employees arriving after 4 hours from their shift start time will be marked as half-day (Refer Section 4).

SECTION 2A : 100% ATTENDANCE REWARD

 - This applies only to employees with a salary not exceeding ₹25,000 per month.
- [For example: An employee with a 10:00 AM – 7:00 PM shift who punches in, on or before 10:00 AM (even 10:01 AM will not be considered) and punches out after 7:00 PM every working day, without taking any leave (including PL or sick leave), will qualify for a 5% monthly bonus.]

SECTION 3: LATE ARRIVAL POLICY & SALARY DEDUCTIONS

- Employees are allowed up to 3 late arrivals per month without salary deduction.
 - From the 4th to the 10th late arrival, salary deduction will be based on hourly wage loss. However, if late arrivals exceed 10 times in a month, a half-day salary will be deducted for each late arrival from the very first instance, retroactively applying to all late arrivals of the month.
(For example, if an employee arrives late on April 2, 5, 8, 12, 15, 18, 20, 22, 25, and 28, salary deduction will be based on hourly wage loss; but if they are also late on April 30 [11th instance], then from April 2 onward, each late arrival will be recalculated as a half-day salary deduction.)
 - Employees arriving late after the buffer time will face salary deductions rounded up to the next full hour. (For Example : For a 10:00 AM shift: Arriving at 10:25 AM results in a 1-hour salary deduction, For a 10:00 AM shift: Arriving at 11:05 AM results in a 2-hour salary deduction).
 - Arriving after 5 hours from shift start time (e.g., after 2:00 PM for the 9-6 shift) will be considered a half-day (Refer Section 4).
 - Leaving the office without prior approval from the reporting manager and HR during work hours will result in an absent mark, unless it is an emergency.

- A half-day will be applied in the following cases:
 - If an employee arrives after 4 hours from their shift start time (e.g., after 1:00 PM for the 9-6 shift).

- If requested by the reporting manager, overtime will be calculated only after 9 hours of work from the punched-in time.
- Overtime will be considered only if approved by the reporting manager via email or Cliq. Overtime will be applicable only if an employee works from the office for more than one hour beyond their scheduled shift end time (e.g., for an 8:00 PM shift end, overtime will be counted only if the employee works past 9:00 PM at office; work done until 8:59 PM will not be considered overtime). If additional work is needed before or after office hours, employees are advised to work from home where feasible.
